

TERMS OF SERVICE

These terms of service include the general terms for the use of websites and services which are provided by POAS at the URL: <https://www.poas.fi> (hereafter referred to as 'websites and services'), with which the user agrees to comply by using the aforementioned websites and services.

POAS reserves the right to alter the contents of the websites and services and change their availability or to cease the publication of the websites and the provision of the services at any given time, either temporarily or permanently. POAS reserves the right to alter these terms of service at any given time.

Immaterial rights

All material published on the websites and the services is property which is protected by the POAS trademark, copyright, and/or other immaterial rights, with the exception of services which are provided by third parties and which have been incorporated into the websites, such as the map service. POAS reserves all rights when it comes to material published on the websites and the services.

Material which is published on the websites and the services can be browsed and copied by printing or by copying the desired file onto the user's computer. However, the material can only be used for non-commercial, personal purposes. Copies or parts of the copies cannot be sold or distributed in digital format or as hardcopies for commercial purposes, and neither can they be edited or incorporated into other materials or websites. Press releases can be published via the media on the condition that the source is quoted.

Limitation of liability

The websites and the services are provided 'as is'. POAS does its best to keep the websites and services available for users without interruption or error, and to keep the information contained in the websites and services up-to-date and accurate. However, POAS does not assume responsibility for direct, indirect, coincidental, specific, or consequential damage, loss of profit or interruption of business caused by availability, interruption of use, or errors in the use of the websites and services, or the materials or information contained therein, even if POAS has been informed of the risk of such damage.

The website and services can contain links to third-party websites and services on these sites (eg. the map service). Such links and services are provided for the use of the user of the websites and services, and POAS does not assume responsibility for these websites, their contents, or the accuracy of their contents, and neither does POAS assume responsibility for the legality of the registering of any personal data which is collected via these sites.

Processing personal data (data protection)

POAS websites can include services which require the processing of personal data. Personal data is collected from clients themselves and, for instance, from the credit reference register of Suomen Asiakastieto Oy and the population data system of the Population Register Centre. Personal data is used for various purposes, such as managing client relationships, conducting client satisfaction research and other surveys, and for client communications. Any personal data collected is part of the POAS personal data file. For more information on the use of personal data and POAS descriptions of files, please visit <https://www.poas.fi/tietosuoja>.

The service provider's contact point, required by section 190 of the Finnish Information Society Code.